

MILITIA IN CONTROL IN COPPER DISTRICT

ENTIRE MILITARY FORCE OF MICHIGAN CALLED OUT ON ACCOUNT OF STRIKE.

NO DISORDERS NOTED

Miners Hold Parades But Order Is Generally Maintained—Retailers
Refuse Credit to Customers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Calumet, July 25.—With six militia companies on duty and state troops enroute from both the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan the strike of copper miners settled measurably toward a state of dull routine today, the third of its existence.

Some of the more enthusiastic union members organized parades and marched through several locations, but there was practically no disorder up to noon. Union leaders held a parade in the morning, demanding recognition of the Western Federation of Miners, but this was not even considered by the company managements.

The picket lines of strikers, however, spread more of companies dependent upon the mines, mills, and smelters.

The action of Hancock retailers in refusing further credit to customers yesterday was repeated in other sections of the district and it was announced that the wholesalers would take similar action Monday.

Clashes Are Expected.
Whether the coming of state troops to the copper country means an end to violence or fresh outbreaks was the chief subject of discussion in Calumet today. Many looked for clashes about various shafts despite the policy of the federal government against the use of force by the militia.

Troops will be distributed among the mines and kept within easy communication. Brigade headquarters will be at Calumet, troops picketing about the mine shafts, Marquette, Menominee, Sault Ste Marie, Alpena and Cheboygan companies were expected here this morning and lower peninsula companies during the afternoon. Houghton troops arrived last night.

Sheriff in Charge.
Troops will act under the direction of Sheriff Cruise, who will have complete control of the situation unless it becomes necessary to proclaim martial law. General Abbey, commanding, will act under the sheriff's orders. Captain Mead's company A was held under orders at the armory all night and company C are ready at a moment's notice to respond to the sheriff's orders before arrival of other troops. Large numbers of strikers gathered about No. 1 Calumet and Hecla shaft this morning but no disorder occurred other than shouting and occasional blows.

They threatened to go to the Superior boiler house of Calumet and Hecla and draw fires, but so far have made no attempt to do this.

Public Meetings.
General closing of saloons is expected if more violence occurs. The coming of the troops probably will cause the abandonment of this year's employment. The militia which was here last night is expected to have been here next month.

Governor Ferris is being kept advised of developments and is not expected unless the situation takes a critical turn. Troops were welcomed by the people and the militia were armed. The militia were welcomed by the strikers and the authorities were reluctant to permit the use of arms.

Last night's mass meetings and parades developed no disturbances. The Western Federation of Miners organization is holding out for a conference with the mine managers. This, it is said, will not be granted by General Manager McNaughton of the Calumet and Hecla, which also controls the Osceola, Tamarack, Algonquin, La Salle, Isle Royale and Superior has so far declined to be quoted as to his attitude in the trouble.

May Re-open Mines.
It is believed that the troops are here the mines will be re-opened.

It is said most of the non-union men are willing to go to work. The militia are continuing to leave the copper country on all trains.

In the strike area of 75 miles, 25,000 are idle. These include surface and shaft mill hands. The smelters are still operating. Strikers for the most part are young men from all over the state. Hungarians, and Bulgarians.

Two thousand strikers of Keweenaw county mines adjacent to the Calumet district are reported marching to Calumet. They are from Allouez, Menominee, Wolverine and Centennial mines. It was said they did not appear to be in an ugly mood. Strikers today drove deputies from the Wolverine and Allouez mines.

Entire Militia Out.
Lansing, July 25.—It was announced in the adjutant general's office here this morning that practically every company of the Michigan National Guard was either on its way to the copper country or would be enroute as soon as cars are available in response to the governor's order yesterday. It was expected that more than 1,000 state militiamen would be in the strike zone before tomorrow night. Several militia companies are there.

Considerable delay was caused in Detroit and some of the larger cities away because of the lack of transportation facilities. All of the companies spent the night in their armories. However, and were ready to go to board the trains just as soon as they were made up.

Brigadier General P. L. Abbey, head of the state militia, left last night for Calumet where he will take charge of the situation.

CONTINUE DEBATE ON THE TARIFF MEASURE BY SENATORS TODAY

Senator Wicks Devotes His Attention
To the Sugar Schedule Defending Beet Industry.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, July 25.—Senator Gallinger, leader of the senate republicans, could find no senator of his party ready to speak on the tariff today except Senator Wicks. He resumed his address begun yesterday.

Several republicans have tariff speeches in preparation. Senator Wicks today devoted his attention chiefly to the sugar schedule defending the beet sugar industry of the west and assailing free sugar in 1916 as ruinous to that industry.

The senate planned to take the bill up again paragraph by paragraph when the California senator concluded. Public hearings will not be held by the interstate commerce commission upon the expediency of the change proposed by the postoffice department in the rates and zones and weights of parcels post matter. In a statement issued today the commission said it has no jurisdiction over the compensation paid by the postal service for hauling the mails.

EXTRA WORK NEEDED
BY THE PHYSICIAN

New Workmen's Compensation Act Is Most Rigid in Its Provisions is Opinion of Dr. Seaman of Milwaukee.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, July 25.—The attitude of physicians toward the workmen's compensation act was voiced by Dr. Gilbert E. Seaman of Milwaukee, at today's joint session of the liability insurance agents and the industrial commission of Wisconsin.

Dr. Seaman said he believed physicians should acquire knowledge of the law in order to avoid serious pitfalls. He predicts that in the future liability insurance and workmen's compensation acts will be administered under a system which contemplates an examination of all men entering employment with reference to the physical fitness for the work they are expected to do.

Dr. J. McGovern of Milwaukee spoke on "Infections Due to Industrial Accidents." His paper dwelt upon the treatment of wounds resulting in accidents.

Attorney General Walter C. Owen paid a tribute to the legal profession for its general attitude on workmen's compensation. He predicted with confidence that as the lawyers who were the members of the legislative subcommittee self-interest and made it possible for the workmen's compensation law to go upon the statute books, so will the practicing lawyers of the state take notice of its beneficent results and true to their patriotic duty in the high motives characteristic of the profession, do all within their power to bring about a correct and proper understanding of the law to the end that its beneficent influences will multiply, thus brightening the lives and lifting the homes of the working men in this state.

The Employers' Views of Workmen's Compensation was the subject of a paper delivered by William Mauthe, of Fond du Lac. The act, he said, saves for the Wisconsin employers half a million dollars annually. It pays half a million more in compensation to the injured workman and through the industrial commission annually saves for the people of the state a quarter of a million in court costs. Many of the employers who at first refused to approve of the act, were misled. Practically all will eventually accept it, he said.

The board is to cooperate with the county superintendent in the improvement of the rural schools. ## REMOVE CONVICTS TO AUBURN PRISON WITH GREAT HASTE TODAY

Sing Sing Prison Officials Take Precautionary Measures to Prevent Outbreak.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Ossining, N. Y., July 25.—Sixty convicts, the drogue of the New York city criminal plant, were taken one by one today from their cells in Sing Sing prison and placed aboard a train for the state prison at Auburn. Recent charges against the warden of Sing Sing caused the warden to take no chances. Each convict was heavily handcuffed and shackled and then chained to his place in the railway car which had been brought inside the prison enclosure. A hundred prison guards did their work while the state armory a company of naval militia waited for a call to protect the town in case the transfer of convicts resulted in a prison mutiny.

There was little sleep in the prison last night. At intervals some of the prisoners started to howl and bang on their cell doors. The din would increase as it was taken up down the line of cells and continue until the angry convicts had worn themselves out. The warden said that the weary night shift of guards was relieved by the keepers who had charge of transferring the 60 second-term convicts.

When the first convicts were brought on to the car, Sing Sing suddenly awoke. More than 1,000 prisoners pushed to their cell windows and cursed and howled and yelled threats at the keepers. The task of the prison authorities was to keep the men quiet when they got the prisoners aboard the car. On the train to which the car was attached they expected to find friends and relatives of the convicts and threats had been made that attempts to release the men might be looked for anywhere between Ossining and Auburn. For this reason there were almost as many guards on the train as there were convicts.

After he has rid the prison of the second termers to be transferred to Auburn, Warden Clarence expects to have no more trouble keeping order. The rest of the second-term convicts are to be sent away tomorrow. To them and a few of their most desperate sympathizers the warden attributes the mutiny that broke out at Sing Sing.

WILL NOT EXAMINE MULHALL IN TRIAL

Democrats on Committee Will Not Cross-Examine Mulhall.—To Go
Before House Committee.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, July 25.—Martin M. Mulhall's story of his lobbying activities for the National Association of Manufacturers as unfolded before the senate lobby committee is to be allowed to stand practically without cross-questioning from democratic members of the committee. Senators Nelson and Cummings who yesterday began a severe questioning of the witness upon any of his statements, probably will continue to demand more detailed statements upon his letters as they are introduced to the records, but the democratic members, Senators Overman, Reed and Walsh, expect to let the Mulhall story stand principally upon the evidence presented in the 5,000 or more letters.

Mulhall will go before the house lobby committee early next week and it is expected there he will be subjected to a rigid examination as to the charges contained in his mass of correspondence that members of the house were his close associates in political campaign work and in efforts to head off labor legislation.

The senate committee has also indicated that it will not permit a general cross-examination of Mulhall by attorneys or officers of the manufacturers and those officials who attempt to make Mulhall defend his statements before the house committee next week.

STATE REFUSES PAY TO EKERN'S LAWYERS

Assembly Turns Down Bill Providing for Appropriation of $2,500 to Cover Litigation Cost.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 25.—The effort to pass a bill to compensate the attorneys for Herman L. Ekern for defending him against the governor's removal order failed in the assembly last night, the bill being non-curred in by a vote of 39 to 38. The bill called for $2,500. Assemblyman Mahon believed the attorneys had not spent 25 days on the case and that if they had, their services were worth the sum asked. He noted that the supreme court had decided Ekern had a property right in the office of state commissioner and believed the latter should pay his own bills for protecting his private rights.

Assemblyman Anderson responded by recalling that the legislature had compensated game wardens for suit money expended in defense of a similar property right. Spooner recalled that Assemblyman Mahon previously had declared the belief that a circuit judge was worth $10,000 or more per year and that legal services in this case should be paid for by similar standards of reckoning.

Assemblyman Hoverson, who voted against the bill, explained that "the man who enjoys the dance should pay the fiddler."

He who is elected by the people and starts the dance should pay the fiddler.

Assemblyman Mahon threatened a call of the house if a motion for reconsideration were made.

STATE FAIR BOARD
OBJECT OF CHARGES

Oshkosh Woman Who Lost Position
As Rest Room Matron Files
Statement Against Management.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 25.—Charges of a serious nature affecting the management of the state fair are contained in a petition filed with the assembly late yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Nora Feinberg Jeannet Oshkosh. Mrs. Jeannet was formerly matron of the woman's rest room and day nursery at the state fair. She lost her position, and in her statement alleged that this was due to the influence of Arthur W. Frahm of Wausau, a member of the board, against whom she made several accusations.

Misapplication of funds, overpayments, and mismanagement in many directions are charged against the board. Referring to reports that her accounts as matron were incorrect, she declared they were straight to a cent.

There was much objection to the reading of the statement when it took a serious turn. Assemblyman Mahon entering a motion to refer it to the committee on agriculture. Others insisted on hearing it all, after which it was sent to the committee on agriculture.

Assemblyman Hanson of Manitowish stated the same petition had been offered to him about two months ago, but that he consulted with Speaker Keith and the committee on the board of agriculture first. The result was, he said, that Mr. Mackenzie controverted every allegation to his satisfaction and Hanson refused to introduce the petition.

EFFORT TO SETTLE PARTY DIFFERENCES ON CURRENCY BILL

President Wilson Holds Conference
With Members of House Banking Committee.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, July 25.—President Wilson endeavored today to reconcile differences of opinion among democrats of the house banking committee on the administration currency bill.

It seemed that the administration supporters would make an effort to have their bill reported soon with a hope that the fight on amendments would be settled in the democratic caucus. The president spent most of the forenoon with Representative Wingo of Arkansas, one of those opposed to certain features of the bill.

The democrats certainly can and will get together on a bill before long," said Mr. Wingo after the conference. The president's conference last night with Representative Henry, who has been recommending certain changes, was described today as satisfactory and administration officials were optimistic that the differences would be adjusted. The president arranged to see Representative Egan and Ragsdale Monday. They have been prominent in opposition to the Glass bill.

It was learned today that the president regards it as inexpedient to incorporate in the bill the findings of the Pujo money trust committee that he had pointed out the necessity for keeping recommendations based on these findings separate. Frequent conferences are looked for at the White House early next week with a view to speeding the administration bill through the house committee.

Chairman Owen of the senate banking committee expressed the opinion that differences in the house committee would not delay the senate's consideration of the bill after the tariff revision was disposed of.

Democrats of the house committee resumed discussion of the so-called insurgent amendments with Chairman Glass endeavoring to press a vote. Bulkeley believed it would be three weeks before an attempt could be made to conclude consideration of the bill.

Representative Wingo prepared to insist upon his amendments. Representatives Henry and Ragsdale are still determined to press the insurgent amendments in caucus if beaten in committee.

SUNDAY CLOSING UP TO THE PEOPLE IF*ROSA'S BILL PASSES

Beloit Assemblyman Would Make Radical Change in Present Blue Laws of State.

Assemblyman Rosa of Beloit plans to offer for introduction a bill on the Sunday closing question in the legislature which is of much importance. The bill has been drafted and will probably be offered for introduction during the day. Judge Rosa will have to secure a suspension of the rules in order to secure consideration for his measure.

In the Rosa bill the provision of the present statutes relating to Sunday closing will remain unchanged. The bill relates to that particular section which deals with the matter of entertainments, including baseball games and moving picture shows. It provides that cities and villages means of an ordinance put to a referendum vote of the people may make exemptions under the law. For instance, if an order were issued to stop Sunday baseball or to prevent the operation of moving picture houses on Sunday, the people might vote upon these questions. If they decided to exempt places it was proposed to close, they would not relate to these particular places in the particular community which voted on the matter.

Judge Rosa does not believe in tampering with the Sunday laws, but his bill indicates that he thinks the people ought to have considerable to say when it comes to the enforcement of blue laws.

NOTED WOMAN FOUND AT TENEMENT WORK

Wife of Former Madison Man and University Graduate Gives up Fortune For Socialistic Work.

In the following article many Janesville people will be interested to read of the wife of the Chief Justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, a graduate of the university and a writer of considerable prominence. Mr. Winslow has risen rapidly in the world of letters and is well known in the east as a writer of humorous and socialistic articles. Two years ago he was married to Jane Burr, referred to in the article. Mr. Winslow has many personal friends in Janesville, who will read with interest the following article:

Mrs. Horatio Winslow, known to readers of modern fiction as Jane Burr, and in St. Louis as the daughter of Leopold Guggenheim, who was discovered yesterday to be living in a model tenement at 520 East Seventy-Seventh street by night, selling socialist literature at noon under the Franklin statue and writing verse in a two-by-four office on the fourth floor of the American Tract building in the afternoon, was "rediscovered" today.

Now she proves to be Mrs. Rosalind Punch, author of "Letters of a Dakota Divorcee," a volume which created a furore four years ago, as it was believed to contain the story of Mrs. Punch's domestic tribulations with Jack Punch, wealthy St. Louis manufacturer and amateur athlete, from whom she does a divorce shortly before the book was published.

Her refusal to let any man support me," said Mrs. Winslow, "and my husband agrees with me. Here in my chosen sphere of work I am as free as I am from corsets."

You look a great deal like a certain lady who wrote an inside story of her experiences in a Dakota divorce court and published in a book known as "Letters of a Dakota Divorcee," Mrs. Winslow was informed this morning.

"Oh," she shrieked, "Come into my office. Don't breathe a word about that around here. I didn't want any one in New York to know that I was ever Rosalind Punch, and I particularly didn't want the old skunk digging up now that I am so happily married and doing so well with my verse."

"I didn't want Jack Punch to know that I even remembered his name; that's why I got this little hole-in-the-wall office and kept my identity a dark secret."

"I've shunned offers of money from my people and have been in the habit of remitting checks of $50 to my father every month. Why, that little element of mine overlooking the East river is as good as any high class apartment on the River Thames, and I wouldn't give it up for all the world."

"I shun everything aristocratic. Can't be too ride in an automobile, eat in a fashionable restaurant or go in for horse shows, although I used to do all of that when I was younger at home."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor: What our city needs now is a "Civic Improvement Club." Every city of any size has one. Why can't we? If the men of our city are too busy to attend to this matter, where are the good women who were called upon before election, to come out and use their influence for what they believed to be the welfare of our city? A good strong, well organized civic improvement club, or call it by whatever name you like, so long as it was working for the improvement of conditions in our town, might be of great benefit at this time.

Now I am told, on what I believe to be good authority, that all that is necessary to secure proper street car service here, is for someone to get up a petition and place it before the Railway Commission and they would look into the matter at once. There is not a person living who could get a petition, but what is everybody's business is nobody's, and so we are patient and long suffering in regards to many things that need attention. A FRIEND AND CITIZEN.

SPORT Snap-Shots

It won't surprise some to learn that tennis is rapidly coming ahead as a summer pastime and that its popularity threatens to rival that of the diamond diversion. Sportsmen and those who know are estimating that in five more years or so tennis will have almost as large a following as baseball, and these predictions are based on real facts and careful observation. There can be no question that in the past few years tennis has when they noticed that old Nap Kucker was not finishing all of his games and would often leave the box after pitching a few innings. Nap's speed and class has not lessened a bit, however, but the facts are that he has had a touch of neuritis in his salary wing and will now be obliged to lay off for a while, though it's not serious.

"Oh, for a berth with another bunch!" sighs Ed Rembach of the Cubs. "Oh, for a change of scene! If I could only get out of the rut I am in at present, start out afresh with some other club, I bet I could tear the league up. I've been here too long. I'm not out of sorts with any of the players nor am I pestered with the management or anything of the sort, but I am convinced that a change would be a great thing for me. A new environment often does wonders for a fellow. Here I'm in a rut. For the past three years I've been doing my best to put over the real kind of twirling, but somehow I haven't done it. I need a change." Rembach would be tickled to join Joe Tinkers' Reds or Stallings' Boston Braves. And the management would be willing to let him go if they could line up a good deal, but quite naturally they're unwilling to let him go for a song. So it looks as if Ed will have to remain where he is till a tempting offer comes along.

For a while the fans wondered

UNIQUE ARRANGEMENT IS MADE FOR ANNUAL REGATTA

Janesville launch owners are interested to learn that the officials of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association announce for unique arrangement for attending the annual regatta at Keokuk, Iowa, August 26, 27 and 28, when the association's headquarters for the three days will be in the middle of Lake Cooper, Adm. Joseph Keiso, Jr., of Bellevue, Iowa, announces he has contracted with Captain A. W. Newcomb of the Steamer Red Wing, port of St. Paul, for this big boat and the barge, "Mississippi." The Red Wing will leave her home port about three days before the regatta and water power celebration at Keokuk, making stops to take on members of the various boat clubs. At Keokuk the Association will maintain its headquarters on board the Red Wing, the passengers having all hotel accommodations on board. Following the celebration the Red Wing will steam back as far as Dubuque, Iowa, with her passengers.

One of the chief attractions at Keokuk will be the wonderful water power project which has been constructed by the damming of the Mississippi river at an expense of $27,000,000, to furnish electrical energy for St. Louis and scores of other large cities and towns within a wide radius. This is said to be one of the greatest engineering projects ever undertaken in America and in some ways equals the Panama Canal in immensity. The big government lock constructed by the power company, is so large that two of the largest river packets may go through side by side, with many feet to spare. The dam, the locks and house with its giant turbines has attracted engineers from all parts of the world, and its official opening August 25th promises to be the biggest event in the West this year.

Complete Excavation: Excavation for the new building which will be built at the corner of South Jackson and Dodge streets for the Rock County Telephone company, has been completed and the work of laying the foundation will begin at once. W. R. Hayes has the contract.

The area of high pressure that was over the Dakotas yesterday, has moved eastward until now its center is over the Great Lakes. A large area of low pressure is in the northwest and another is centered over Newfoundland. Where the influence of the high prevails the weather is clear and temperatures lower, but in the northwest and overall of the country south and east of the Ohio rain has fallen during the last twenty-four hours. This rain area extends in the south along the Gulf of Mexico as far west as Athens and has for its northern border southern Kansas and Missouri. Temperatures are rising as the low from the Northwest approaches.

UNJUST CRITICISM.

There is always a question that criticism of public questions by persons not thoroughly conversant with the subject under discussion is unjust. Just at present the current criticism of the public school is discussed in a report just issued by the United States Bureau of Education.

Among other things, the contention that the "three R's" are neglected in the modern school is answered with the emphatic statement that "the three R's are better taught today than they were fifty or sixty years ago."

"We frequently hear that there are 'too many subjects,' 'too many facts and frills,' and hence neglect of the three R's," says the report. "The critics who utter this sort of criticism seldom agree on exactly what the facts and frills are, but they invariably look back to a golden past when the so-called 'fundamentals,' reading, writing, and arithmetic, were taught in such a way as never to be forgotten. As a matter of fact, the system of today is immeasurably ahead of the school system of the past. The growth has been steady. Whatever may be said against the enrichment of the course of study, its 'facts and frills,' the contention that the essentials, so called, have suffered in comparison with the past, falls flat."

In discussing current criticism generally, the report finds that much of the criticism of the public schools of today is due to a marked change in the purpose of public education. "The charge of a curriculum 'behind the times,' and the demand for vocational subjects, represent no mere call for different school subjects as such, but a complete transformation in the idea of what the public school should do."

"Those who criticize the bookish curriculum of the public school, whether elementary or high school, are really striving for what they conceive to be the changed purpose of education: To reach all the children of all the people with the kind of training that will make them not merely intelligent in respect to things that are in books, but will equip them directly for the kind of life, economic and social, which they will lead when they leave school; while those who oppose the innovations do so because they do not concede this broader, though apparently more specialized, purpose."

MORE COMMENTS.

The press throughout the state still continue to comment upon the result of Tuesday's recall election. Some express disappointment that the re-election of Mayor Fathers was not by a larger majority, but all are unanimous that his victory over the element, which sought to recall him, is a step forward. The comments of the Superior Telegram are as follows:

"The Janesville recall has failed. The vote was taken on Tuesday. The present incumbent, James A. Fathers, received 1,570 votes, and his opponent, John C. Nichols, 1,472, the difference being 98 votes out of a total of 3,042 cast, a very large vote for a city that at the last census had only 13,894 inhabitants, or about one-third as many as Superior had at the same time. At the presidential election last fall Janesville cast only 2,474 votes, hence it is apparent that the recall election brought several hundred more voters to the polls than all of the canvassing for the presidential, state and county election did a few months ago."

"Mr. Fathers, as mayor, has been enforcing the law, and this policy was what brought on the recall movement. The segregated district was abolished and several other reforms were introduced. The result shows that the reform government in Janesville has a majority—not a very large one, but nevertheless large enough for practical purposes. The tendency of the public mind in that city has been in that direction, the same as in the most of other cities, as, for instance in Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Paul. The Janesville Gazette says that 'the fact that the total vote is heavier than any ever held previously, that the city was combed, as with a fine tooth comb, for voters, makes the fact more significant than ever.'

"Another significant fact is that the defeated side had a candidate of great personal strength and popularity. An ordinary candidate would probably have made a much weaker showing. Of him the Janesville paper says: 'Though defeated, Mr. Nichols is the gainer. As head of a prosperous manufacturing concern which he has created and watched grow to its present magnitude, he will be financially richer than had he given up his business career to become mayor, and the city of Janesville is itself the gainer in that the industry it is justly proud of, will retain as its head the man who has demonstrated its success.'

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin says: "Janesville has shown what she thinks of the recall by re-electing the mayor against whom the device was invoked with the expectation of punishing him for enforcing order."

The Beloit News is not optimistic and says: "We shall expect to hear in a few days of a new move for a recall election in Janesville. The margin on Tuesday was very narrow and the parties interested very desperate."

The Rockford Star's comment is: "Janesville has decided to continue to father Mayor Fathers."

Some financial experts say that $500,000,000 in American money has gone into Canada within a year. That much Yankee capital would have been taken out of Mexico in the same time if it had been possible to get it over the border. "There's a reason."

The arrival from the Antipodes of that redoubtable duskyadiator, "Sam" Langford, was immediately followed by more "drawing the color line" by white pugilists, a coincidence which confirms the common belief that in such cases the color line is not black but yellow.

YOUNGSTERS ARRIVE FROM CHICAGO TODAY

Twenty-One Young Fresh-Air Children Arrived in City This Morning—Will Remain Two Weeks.

Twenty-one youngsters from Chicago arrived in this city this morning where they will remain for the next two weeks, at different homes, where a place has been provided for them. The children are from the Chicago Commons and tenement district, at Grand and Market streets. This settlement also goes under the name of Graham Taylor vicinity.

The children will be properly taken care of and will be given the best of time while in Janesville. Miss Eleanor King is the treasurer of the philanthropic department of the Summer Club of Household Economics, and has charge of the children. This club has made it possible for many Chicago children to come to this city for an outing. A supervisor accompanied the children from the Windy city here this morning.

The children were taken care of as soon as they jumped off the train. Those who are to take care of the children are the following people: Mrs. Lydia Beach, Footville, two girls; Mrs. Lowry, Footville, two boys; Mrs. H. A. Palmer, Logan street, Janesville, four girls; Mrs. Maitland Palmer, Janesville, three girls; Mrs. Waterman, farm, two brothers and one sister; Mrs. E. W. Fisher, farm, one boy; Mrs. Ellis, farm, two girls; Mr. Hayner, farm, two girls; Mr. Fish, Ravine street, Janesville, one boy; Mrs. George Goldsmith, farm, one girl.

After visiting in and about these farms, it is generally difficult for the children to make up their minds to go home, for the conditions here are quite different than they are in Chicago. The sturdy small apartments of Chicago are the homes of many of these children, and their appreciation of the good times which they receive when on a fresh-air tour, is generally shown by their actions, before returning home.

CAUSES ARREST OF HUSBAND WITH HIS ALLEGED AFFINITY

Mrs. O. J. Gleason Follows Husband To Whitewater by Automobile And Locates Husband.

According to a telephone report from Whitewater this morning, Mr. O. J. Gleason, who has been employed at a Janesville garage for some months, was taken in custody shortly after 1 o'clock this morning by Whitewater officers, at the request of his wife, who had followed him from Janesville and traced him and his alleged affinity, a woman supposed to be Mrs. Glen Bailey, to the house of the woman's parents.

It was learned later that Gleason moved to Janesville during the winter from Chicago and wished his wife to join him. This she refused to do and remained in Chicago with her two children. She visited her husband several times during the interim and it is alleged she discovered that he was unduly intimate with a woman, supposed to be Mrs. Glen Bailey, who had left her husband and resided in the third ward. Her suspicions aroused she made a trip to Janesville Thursday and discovered his absence and also that of the woman.

It is said she took an automobile and drove to Whitewater, accompanied by a driver and after locating the couple at the home of the woman's parents made her appeal to the police. It was one o'clock when she roused the officers at their homes and they went with her to the house. They were refused admission. It is said and broke the door down, taking the man and woman to jail.

It was learned this afternoon from District Attorney Bulkley of Walworth county, that they had not been arraigned as yet but that the charge would be a serious one as both man and woman are married. Mrs. Gleason was expected in his office to make the formal complaint this afternoon.

JOY RIDING PARTY HAS CAR SMASHED

Two Janesville Boys Find Speeding After Dark Fatal to Their Car—Neither Are Injured.

Joy riding proved a costly pleasure for Herman Whitmyer and Frank Pierson last evening when the small runabout car in which the two young men were speeding along Milton avenue swerved from the road and crashed into a tree. Neither of the young men were injured to any extent. They had taken the car out for a spin early in the evening and after making repairs at the garage on East Milwaukee street started out to set the car through its pace. On the level stretch of road leading off Milton avenue they opened the throttle and while going at a high rate of speed swerved from the road, crashed into a fence and ended up against a tree trunk. The radiator of the car was smashed beyond repairs and drove back nearly to the motor by the collision. Both lamps were broken and one wheel badly bent. Both men were at work today.

The Christian's Future Reward

By REV. WILLIAM EVANS

Director of Bible Course, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT: For he had respect unto the recompense of the reward.—Heb. 11:26.

The Christian is constantly bidden to look unto the recompense of his reward. The saints of the new dispensation, like those of the old, die "not having received the promises" in all their fullness. Nevertheless faith gives them confidence in their hope that some future day will reveal that they have not believed in vain.

4. The Believer in Christ Never Dies. Jesus said: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." And again: "If a man keep my word, he shall never see death." He shall never "see" death—what does that mean? It means that he shall never gaze upon death as the outlook or the objective of his life. There are but two spheres: life, and death. The moment a man believes in Jesus Christ he passes out of the sphere of death into that of life; life, not death, is henceforth his outlook. The believer is nowhere told to look forward to death. Since he believed, death has ceased to be the object of his gaze. The Christian shall "never die." In the words of Jesus to Martha: "Believest thou this?" "That thou dead shalt one day live because of him, is not hard to believe; but that those living 'shall never die' because of their faith in him, is more difficult to believe. Nevertheless it is a fact. The death of the body is no more to be considered death to the Christian, than the life of the body is to be counted life as compared with that 'life which is life indeed.' This does not mean that Christians will not see the grave, but that, in the deepest sense they will not die. The life of faith survives the shock of death, which is but a momentary shadow upon the life which is very far better. There are no Christian dead. The God of the Christian is the God of the living, and not of the dead. This is the truth enunciated by God to Moses at the burning bush. Moses was to understand that Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were still living.

11. Christians Fall Asleep in Christ. A distinction is made between "dying" and "falling asleep." "For if we believe that Jesus died... so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him." Jesus died, that is, he tasted and drained the cup to its bitter end, in order that we might not have to do the same. He died; we sleep. He has abolished death and brought life and immortality to light. Three things are suggested by the term "sleep": continued existence, repose, awakening. In what the world calls death the believer simply closes his eyes upon that which is mortal, and immediately opens them upon that which is eternal. What a blessed awakening! "Why make ye this ado, and weep? The damsel is not dead, but sleepeth."

The living presence of Christ is what greets the Christian in the place of death. How beautifully this is brought out in the Shepherd Psalm, "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." Note the change in the personal pronoun. Up to this point, the psalmist has used the third personal pronoun "he," but now he uses the second person, "thou." Why? Because in the hour when we pass through the valley of the shadow, no third person, no loved one, parent or child, can go with us through that narrow vale. The valley is so narrow that a mother cannot take her one day old babe with her. If we have no Christ, we press our way through that valley alone, and missing him, our stumbling feet must fall.

O, to have no Christ, no Savior; no hand to clasp thine own: Through the dark, dark vale of shadows, thou must press thy way alone. The assurance of the believer is that Christ will be with him in the hour of departure; that he will stand by his bedside as the light of earth falls, ready to lead him through the valley into the home beyond the skies. It was the assurance of this presence that led Mr. Moody to say when dying: "Is this death? Why there is no dark valley; he is with me." The living Christ takes the place in the experience of the believer of what the world calls, and is in reality to the worldling, death.

"And when, at last, I hear the shore, And the fearful breakers roar, Twixt me and my heavenly rest: Then, while leaning on thy breast, may I hear thee say to me: 'Fear not, I will pilot thee.'"

A good wife must be grave abroad, wise at home, patient to suffer, constant to love, friendly to all, and provident for her household.—Theophrastus.

United on Deathbed. A pathetic marriage ceremony took place the other day, in a Budapest hospital. A German singer named Erdos, who was appearing professionally in the Hungarian capital, was suddenly taken ill with heart weakness a few days ago. He telegraphed to his sweetheart in Frankfurt, Germany, to come to him. The girl started at once, and arrived in Budapest promptly. They were married immediately in the hospital ward, and Erdos died an hour after the ceremony.

BOYS ARE FAITHFUL IN CARE OF PLOTS; SHOW FINE RESULTS

Inspection Trip Reveals Fact That Boys Entered in Gazette Contest Have Done Good Work.

(By Noyes Raessler.)

H. H. Bliss and Noyes Raessler left Janesville early Thursday morning and visited all the boys in the corn contest who resided in the town of Harmony and Johnston, Bradford and part of Milton. Among the contestants were the following:

Arthur Horwath, Howard Honke, William Warner, Glen McKillup, David and Winford Ransom, David Dean, Martin Murphy, Roy Feaster, Alfred Thoms, Gerald Eayre, Roland Rice, Wallace and George Austin.

Two judges to officially supervise the weighing of the corn plots were appointed. These were W. B. Austin who will take charge of the greater portion of the township of Janesville, and W. E. Bingham of Milton, who will take charge of part of Harmony and part of Milton townships. It is the purpose of the management to secure enough official judges residing in the immediate districts where the corn is grown to oversee the work and to make it as possible for the boys to have the corn weighed.

The corn grown by the boys in nearly every instance was far in advance of the rest of the corn grown on the farms. This was due without question to the fact that the corn plots received more attention and cultivation was done at the time when it was most beneficial to the crop.

In many cases the corn in the acre plots was fully a foot higher than the other corn on the same farm, and it was further along the maturity stage.

No fields were seen which did not show tassels and in many cases silks were noticeable on the young ears. No fields were found which had been planted from corn received from the Gazette office that did not show an excellent stand. In some cases where ordinary seed was sown a re-planting had been necessary, making the crop uneven in maturity. Nevertheless there is absolutely no way to determine which boy will win the first prize until after the husking is done.

As far as can be determined at this stage the fields are very nearly alike. The early planted corn was checked by the frost a week ago and the late planted corn, was pushed along so fast by the hot weather and favorable rains that there is practically no difference.

In some cases the boys were obliged to neglect the corn, owing to having started harvesting and a few weeds have started. However, these boys are determined to sail in and pull every weed out of the acre plot.

While growing the corn one more shallow cultivation there is no further work required on any of the fields visited yesterday until harvest.

Every boy was asked as to his estimate on the corn work. Although a number of boys had neglected this so far they were all advised to write up an account of the work that has been done so far and to continue this until the corn is harvested. It is just as essential to keep an itemized account of this work as to secure good seed. There is no other way of determining the net income from a crop than to keep a strictly itemized account from start to finish.

Among the other things that the boys were requested to do was to have in their photographs to the Gazette office within the next month if possible. This should not be neglected because a group picture will be made of the boys who take part in this corn contest, and since this is the largest corn contest which has ever been conducted in the state this group picture, which will be made when all the photographs are in, will be looked upon with interest by people all over the state, and will be an inducement for boys in other counties to fall in line and enter corn contests another year.

The corn inspectors were pleased to note that not only the boy himself but the whole family was interested in and had been watching the progress made by the corn in the acre plot. There is no question but what the farmer himself is benefitted as a result of this contest, for in most every case he is making a special effort to take care of the regular field of corn just a little better than he has ever done before, for he realizes that the corn inspectors will most always take a look into the general field as well as the boy's acre.

The condition of the boy's corn indicates that he will certainly be in a position to store away a good lot of pure bred seed and another year the entire corn acreage of the farm can be planted from seed which has no equal in the state.

In the vicinity of Mount Zion some of the finest harvest scenes of the season were seen. Farmers were harvesting barley and oats and some were still in the midst of haying.

While the barley and oats will not be very heavy this year, the hay is an exceptionally heavy crop. One harvest scene was noticed where the yields were as follows: 27 bushels of barley per acre; 25 bushels of rye and 20 bushels of wheat. The barley was damaged by the hot weather just before the ripening stage. The wheat crops are very good and the stalks look exceptionally fine.

The early part of next week a trip in the vicinity of Edgerton will be taken, taking in Milton, Edgerton, Fulton and Evansville.

NEAR TWO THOUSAND FOR PENSION FUND

Rock County Teachers Turn in Nearly One Hundred Per Cent More Than Last Year.

Nearly two thousand dollars have been paid in by Rock county school teachers for the teachers' retirement fund during the school year just closed, according to the figures at the county treasurer's office.

With every township, city and village returns received, with the exception of the towns of Rock and Janesville, the total money amounts to $1,795.03, which is a gain of $868.91 over the same districts for last year, or 81.6 per cent.

The city of Janesville pedagogues gave paid in $623 this year against $492 in 1912. Beloit, $535.37 this year and $372.25 in 1912. Edgerton, $92.55 this year and $37.35 in 1912; Evansville, $49.05 this year and $3.95 in 1912; the village of Milton, $52.74 against $15.20 last year. In the townships the increase has been proportional.

The change in the law requiring that all teachers newly employed at the beginning of the school year last September, shall pay one per cent of their salaries into the fund, is responsible for the notable increase in the total amount received for the year.

In the city of Janesville the increase has not been so large owing to the fact that most of the teachers elected to come under the law when it was instituted two years ago.

Mr. Livermore will turn over the money now in his hands to the state treasurer who has charge of the teachers' fund, before August 1.

STATE DEPARTMENTS GET APPROPRIATION

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 25.—About $5,100,000 was appropriated by the legislature last night to run the state departments, courts and commissions for the next two years. This is practically no increase in amount over departmental appropriations of two years ago. According to the bill $2,555,124 is needed to operate the departments during the present year.

Salaries of state employees have been held upon awaiting the passage of this legislation. The final vote was 64 to 14.

The salary of Commissioner. The assembly concurred in the senate bill validating a law passed at the session two years ago fixing the salary of the commissioner of banking at $5,000 annually. It also concurred in a bill presented by Senator Bichler validating the payment to a mayor in a third class city of a sum for time spent as a commissioner of public works. It killed the bill barring all persons interested in legislation from coming on the floor of either house of the legislature.

There was a long debate on the bill prohibiting a hunter killing more than one buck deer. Assemblyman H. E. Peavey opposed the bill and Assemblyman Urquhart favored it. Assemblyman Hawn claimed that the bill if passed would make perpetrators of more than any other law it would be possible to pass. He said that under the bill one could keep on shooting deer until a buck was killed. Assemblyman Urquhart said the measure would protect human life.

Other Minor Business. The assembly adopted an amendment offered by Mr. Nye providing that a state institution outside of Madison can have its printing done locally. The amendment was concurred in by the senate and the bill now goes to the governor.

Final concurrence was given by the assembly to the K. A. Johnson bill to give aid in the amount of $50 to some of the weaker rural schools of the state. It concurred in the Zophy bill appropriating 12,000 for the improvement of streets in West Allis in the vicinity of the state fair grounds. The Teasdale bill providing for track connections between railroads in towns, villages and cities was advanced and then concurred in under a suspension of the rules. It refused to reconsider the vote by which it killed the bill providing for a board of tax review of live members to be appointed by the mayor in the city of Milwaukee.

LOCAL SUFFRAGISTS TO MEET SATURDAY

Will Discuss Plans for Educational Campaign—Are Interested in Woman's Day at Chautauqua.

Since the voting of the woman suffrage bill by Governor McGovern, Wisconsin suffragists have settled down to the steady task of raising funds to conduct campaigns of education throughout the state until the next submission of the measure to voters. Mrs. E. S. Jordan of Kenosha, chairman of the state finance committee has apportioned Rock county's work and at a meeting at Library Hall on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, local suffragists will meet to consider ways and means of doing their part. They urge everyone to be present who is interested in the principle of woman suffrage or eager to hasten the day when women shall bear their part in the civic problems of our towns.

The Rock County Woman's Suffrage Association is planning to maintain free public rest tent at the Chautauqua which begins on August 1, for the benefit of patrons of the Chautauqua. Chairs and couches will be provided, also free literature for reading and distribution, and there will be attendance of the Christian Endeavor society of the United Brethren church will have an ice cream social this evening at the home of Blanchard Wingow, (Fairview Greenhouse) on Milwaukee Ave. The public is invited.

to provide for the comfort of visitors to the tent.

The Association has taken great interest in making the final day of the Chautauqua, Woman's Day, a great success. Some special features are being planned which will be announced later. At the meeting at Library Hall on Saturday afternoon, some of the plans for participating in Woman's Day at the Chautauqua will be under discussion.

MISS ELLA WILLS CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY WITH MEMBERS OF HER MUSIC CLASS

Miss Ella L. Wills, of 416 Locust street, celebrated the thirty-sixth anniversary of starting teaching music to the Janesville young people by a pretty little party, at which the guests were members of her music class. Musical games were played in the house and later on the lawn. Those taking part were the Misses Edith Morse, Florence Hancock, Florence Hunt, Genevieve Wilkinson, Annie Daley, Mildred Cleveland and Ralph Pautz. The guests arrived at two in the afternoon and remained until eight, a delicious luncheon being served on the lawn.

The Christian Endeavor society of the United Brethren church will have an ice cream social this evening at the home of Blanchard Wingow, (Fairview Greenhouse) on Milwaukee Ave. The public is invited.

LAKE FOLDERS

A fresh supply of lake folders have just been received at the GAZETTE TRAVEL BUREAU. People in doubt as to where to go on their vacation will be assisted, we believe, by a perusal of the pages of these folders. Free for the asking.

Old Tree of Historic Interest. Sir Sidney Pocock, J. P., has just disposed of his residence, Charlton Court, Shepperton-on-Thames, Middlesex, England, in the kitchen garden of which is a very old mulberry tree bearing a tablet with the following inscription: "During the reign of Charles II. a fox was hunted from Windsor park and took refuge in this tree, where it was killed. The king, who was present at the kill, expressed a wish that the tree should be preserved to commemorate the longest run on record."

Original Amen Corner. The origin of the name "Amen corner" is interesting and throws a pleasant light on English Catholicity of the days before the apostasy of Henry VIII. Each year on the feast of Corpus Christi the faithful went in procession to St. Paul's cathedral. Mustering in Cheapside, the procession moved toward the cathedral, the clergy chanting the "Our Father" as they passed along the street still called Paternoster row, reaching the "Amen" as they turned the corner known for years as Amen corner.

TO HOLD NEW TRIAL IN THE BUOB CASE

Brewery Owner Charged With Selling
Beer on Sunday Will Have a Re-Trial Next Wednesday.

The jury in the case of the state of Wisconsin against Mrs. Mary Buob, owner of the Buob brewery, who was arrested on the charge of selling beer on Sunday contrary to law and the terms of her brewery license, disagreed late yesterday afternoon following the trial of the case before Judge Field in the municipal court. The date for the new trial was set at next Wednesday, July 30.

The case was a peculiar one in several respects. There was but one witness called on the part of the prosecution and no witnesses examined for the defense, which rested its case on the argument of Attorney M. O. Monat to the jury. Perry Thift, Sharon street, the solitary witness, testified that he had purchased four pint bottles of beer at the brewery on the Sunday in question, receiving the goods from Fred Weber, an employee of the brewery, to whom he paid the money.

The defense based its case on the contention that Weber was not Mrs. Buob's agent and that Mrs. Buob was not responsible for his acts in the capacity of salesman.

Acting District Attorney John L. Fisher tried the case for the state. "We voted to clean up the town at the election Tuesday. Here's a chance for you men to get busy," said Mr. Fisher in opening his address to the jury.

There was a gallery of twenty or more persons present to witness the trial.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

WHICH WAS RIGHT?

SOME weeks ago I published a letter from one of my reader friends in which she asked my opinion of two families.

In one family, that of Mr. and Mrs. A., there are seven ill-bred children; the mother is worn out with child bearing and child raising; the father escapes from this unattractive home by spending his evenings in a saloon.

In the other family, that of Mr. and Mrs. B., the number of children has been purposely confined to one. He is well bred and manly; Mr. and Mrs. B. are devoted to each other, enjoy life and do much good outside the home.

Which, my friend asked, is the better way?

Not being able to solve this question I passed it on to my readers.

Below are some of their opinions:

"Will you let me make a suggestion with regard to the problem?" writes one man. "It appears to me that your friend answers her own question when she says that Mr. A. seems to be to get away from his wife and children as much as possible in order to pass away the time in a saloon or hotel bar-room, and that Mrs. A. has no charms for him."

A man with a good wife and seven children, who prefers a saloon to his home is lacking in manhood, and a problem that includes such a man and the family fathered by such a man, and makes a comparison with some other man and his family is no problem. We all know men who are failures, some with families, others without. We all know families where there are a large number of children who are all nearly little fellows, and we also know families where there is but one child and he an incorrigible. If Mr. A. can be cured of the saloon habit and taught that true pleasure is to be found in the company of his family, I think your problem will be solved.

That is a good letter, but it seems to me he rather side-steps the real issue. This lady is more straightforward:

"My answer to your question," she writes, "would be just one little sentence in favor of the poor drudge." She did the will of her father, and what does it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his immortal soul? The first woman, no doubt, was not looking for her reward in this world."

Quite as firm in the opposite opinion is this correspondent:

"In line with your article in this morning's paper, permit me to suggest that Mrs. B., who brought one lone child into the world and who, after fifteen years of married life, still held her husband's love, is the woman worthy of respect. Give me the woman every time who refuses to permit marriage to make a drudge of her."

As usual, there were so many excellent contributions to the symposium that I could not condense them into one day's space. Please let me use tomorrow's.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

Make three-inch cubes of bread, hollow out in the form of a box, brush with melted butter and brown in the oven. Fill with salmon and peas creamed together.

Raspberry and Currant Conserve.—Cover two boxes of currants with water, stew and strain; add a box of stewed and strained raspberries, a cup of stoned raisins, a cup of almonds chopped, rind, pulp and juice of two oranges. Add one cupful of sugar to each cupful of fruit juice and cook slowly until it jellies. Pour into glasses, cover when cool, and keep in a cool, dark place.

Hot Ham Sandwiches.—Spread boiled ham finely chopped on buttered bread, arrange like sandwiches, dip in egg and milk and fry a golden brown in butter. Serve with tomato salad.

Blueberry Cake.—Cream a tablespoonful of butter, add a cupful of sugar, and when well mixed two un-beaten eggs. Beat well five minutes; add a teaspoonful of vanilla, a few grains of nutmeg, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted with two cupfuls of flour; add at the last a pint of well-floured blueberries. Bake in a loaf and serve warm with butter.

Fried Chicken.—Fry the pieces of Chicken until brown in butter, then add a cupful of boiling water and simmer for half an hour. Remove the cover from the pan and cook down and re-brown. The gravy is especially nice when chicken is cooked this way.

Ginger Cobbler.—Cut in dice one pared cucumber; slice two oranges and three lemons, sprinkle with a cupful of powdered sugar; add a cupful of ginger syrup and put on ice for two hours. Add two quarts of ginger ale and a cup of sugar syrup. Place a block of ice in a punch bowl and pour over the mixture, garnish with raspberries and serve at once.

Peach D'Amour.—Fill tall glasses with peach ice cream, add sufficient raspberry juice to color and run down through the cream; on top place a spoonful of sweetened and flavored ice cream. Garnish with a few fresh raspberries or a maraschino cherry.

Worried Girl.—

(1) Niagara Falls is as safe as any place I know of, for an honest and self-respecting girl to work.

(2) I don't think it will make them dark. You can get an eyebrow pencil at the drug store that will darken your eyebrows.

(3) Don't marry him if you don't care for him. Don't if he will try to marry you, but if you really think he means it, ask the police for protection.

(4) I think every healthy, sweet-tempered girl of fourteen is pretty, my dear.

(5) Why should they laugh at you? You must be rather vain or you would not think that people are always thinking about YOU. There are other important things in the world. Just forget yourself and think how you are going to make things pleasant and comfortable for others.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of eighteen.

(1) Am too young to go to Niagara Falls alone. I want to see if I can get work.

(2) Is olive oil good to make your eyebrows dark?

(3) A fellow thirty-nine years old is "crazy" over me. He told me he would get me if he had to kill me. I used to be great friends with him, but people told me not to be. Should I marry him or not? I do not love him, and I thought maybe it was best because I am afraid he might kill me.

TOBACCO CROP IS IN GOOD CONDITION

Good. Crop. Seems Assured. From Present Outlook.

According to the Edgerton tobacco Reporter, the growing tobacco crop is doing better for the week has brought exceptionally fine growing weather and the fields are making very satisfactory progress. Aside from quite a percentage that will rank as late the crop conditions are about as the average season at this date. Plenty of rains have kept the soil soft and about all that is needed now to bring about the harvest is cultivation and the continuation of warm weather. Some of the early fields are beginning to show the bud tops.

The market for old leaf is still under the cloud of mid-summer dullness and nothing of importance has developed.

The shipments out of storage reach about 500 cases from this market to all points since last report.

The tobacco crop is now making very satisfactory progress, though the weather of the next month will determine its fate. It is certain there will be quite a percentage of late tobacco this year that will need the most favorable weather to reach a harvest. The medium set fields at the present writing, however, look to be the best proposition as meeting the ideas of what will make the better size and heavier growth leaf.

BLAND'S ORCHESTRA IS BIG ATTRACTION

Appearance of This Musical Organization Will Be Musical Event of Chautauqua Week.

Musical entertainment during the chautauqua week which begins a week from today, has been amply provided for, and among the big attractions in this line will be Prof. Bland's orchestra.

In the eighty or more Illinois and Wisconsin towns and dates where this company appeared last summer, Mr. Bland and his musical artists will need no introduction.

Never before in the seven years' history of the Lincoln chautauqua, has any attraction received such a wonderful ovation and unanimous approval. Before the 1912 season was over the requests for the return of Bland's band and orchestra had become so numerous that the management was compelled to re-engage them for this season.

With ten accomplished musicians, five of them concert soloists, an extra fine brass quartet, string quartet and zylphone, the program cannot fail to please even the most fastidious. At the afternoon session the band will give a concert, and before the night lecture their will be a prelude by the orchestra, and a fine concert in costume following. These programs will embrace all kinds of musical numbers, including a new thrilling orchestral climax "The Battle of the Big Horn or the Last Charge of Custer."

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

(By Howard L. Rann.)

WALKING is a despised form of exercise which is performed with the legs as a substitute for street car fare. If a man walks down town from 45th street every day for two years and puts the amount thus saved out at interest until he becomes seventy, he will have accumulated enough to keep a second-hand run-around in tires for several months.

Walking is a time when a man is an untired experiment, and a great many people refused to try it at first for fear of losing their equilibrium and other valuable things. When, however, they saw the benefits of walking, they began to realize that they had an unappreciated boon in their midst and from that time to this people have always walked on their feet.

Walking is used to very good advantage by overworked business men who hesitate to send their guests to a hospital, for fear that they will not get it back intact. Many a man has seen the grim specter of a $250 operation for appendicitis lurking behind the fourth helping of spring lamb and has tried to pull it to sleep by taking a long walk, only to have it pounce on him nine miles from an interne and produce a consultation of doctors whose combined time is worth $300 a half hour.

The automobile has made walking about as fashionable as a red necktie at a church wedding. Nothing makes the average man more disgusted with walking than to have some neighbor who has owed him on back account for sixteen years, who by in a narrow touring car and flaunt the muffler cut-out in his face. If there were fewer folks in this country getting along without the daily newspaper and the clean boiled shirt, in order to burn up two or three gallons of gas and non-slipshod tires, walking would be a more popular form of locomotion.

WHITEWATER MAYOR SUBJECT OF ATTACK

Charges Have Been Preferred Against David Zuill, Well Known in Janesville.

Hon. David F. Zuill, the mayor of the city of Whitewater, this state, will be tried by the common council of that city next Monday, the 29th instant, on charges preferred against him by Frank Bishop and George Gill, police officers. They allege that on the 4th instant Mr. Zuill, while acting as mayor, was intoxicated and disorderly, and used abusive and obscene language with reference to and in the presence of Frank Bishop, daring the police to arrest him; and that later he attacked Policeman Bishop, who placed the mayor under arrest.

It is claimed by the friends of Mr. Zuill that this action on the part of the common council is the result of a political feud; that he is not of the same political faith as a majority of the council; and that the members of that body opposed to him have entered into a conspiracy to oppose and humiliate him.

They state that the police officers mentioned were appointed by the common council with the understanding that they should watch and arrest Mr. Zuill; that no person who is not opposed to him could receive the appointment; that there was a celebration in Whitewater on the 4th of July, and Mr. Zuill was acting as marshal of the day; that he was followed about town by these officers, and was, late in the afternoon, by one of them, that if he did not get off the streets, he would be placed under arrest; that some words ensued, but nothing of a serious nature, and that at that time, and later Mr. Zuill stepped into the police station on business, and he was attacked without any reason, by Policeman Bishop, and struck over the head several times with a hickory cane and thrown into a cell; that Policeman Bishop stated that he intended to keep Mr. Zuill locked up until the next morning, but a crowd gathered, and it was feared that the Mayor would be released by force, and he was finally permitted to go from the station by the police.

Mr. Zuill is well known in the city of Janesville, being a member of the Kiwanis club, and a member of the board of directors of the city of Janesville, and a member of the board of directors of the city of Janesville, and a member of the board of directors of the city of Janesville.

Heat Very Trying to Women's Nerves

They Neglect Their Bowels and the Poisons Vitalize the Blood.

Hot weather has a very weakening effect on women. They are too languid to exercise, and as a result have appetite only for foods that are light and tasty, such as salads and other cold concoctions. But these frequently produce indigestion, and with it comes constipation.

It is especially in hot weather that women should keep up the highest standard of health, for it is necessary to have strength to resist the heat. The first essentials are good digestion and regular bowel movement and then good red blood and steady nerves will follow. The best way to obtain these is not by an over-indulgence in fruits, which often are not ripe, or over-ripe, and hence are dangerous, but in the use of a gentle and pleasant-tasting, but stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Use it tonight and your constipation, indigestion and sick headaches will vanish by morning.

Chicago, uses it herself and gives it to her children, and Mrs. A. C. Caldwell, Denver, Colo., was once pale and sallow-looking but now has a pretty complexion, and naturally they are great believers in the value of Syrup Pepsin as a seasonable, laxative- tonic.

It can be obtained of druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size for family use. Its tonic properties make it an ideal laxative for women and children. You will never again use strong cathartics, purgatives and salts after trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, please, by addressing Dr. Caldwell, 418 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.
